GREECE TURNING TOWARD ALLIES

No Blockade Has Been Declared and British Said to Have Been Assured of Proper Protection From Rear Attack—Grecian Premier to Resign—Bulgars and Teutons Make Great Progress—Serbs Claim Defeat of Bulgars in Central Serbia—Monastir Still Holds Out—Allied Offensive at Dardanelles Not Maintained.

By Associated Press.

Saloniki, Greece, November 23.—The resignation of Premier Skouloudis of Greece, according to reports in circulation here, is expected momentarily on account of differences between Greece and Great Britain.

London, November 23.—The foreign office states that no Greek ships are being seized or held up in the ports of the United Kingdom, and that no blockade of Greek ports has been instituted or is in force.

The universal deduction of this announcement is that the Greek government has satisfied the British demands, submitted by Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, who was in Athens last week.

It is assumed Greece has furnished guarantees of the safety of the Anglo-French expeditionary forces.

It is believed the announcements from Athens concerning a commercial blockade of Greece were premature, in that they presented the provisional intentions of the entente allies as accomplished fact.

Berlin, November 23.—Notable progress for the Bulgarians in the region southeast of Pristina, in Serbia, with the capture of 8,000 Serbians, 44 cannon and 22 machine guns, was announced by German army headquarters today.

The Teutonic troops have taken 1,500 additional Serbian prisoners and captured six cannon.

London, November 23.—The latest news from the Balkans has revived hope in England that Monastir may hold out long enough to enable the French and British forces to effect a junction with the Serbians.

It is now believed that allies which may take refuge on Greek territory are hardly likely to be subjected to attack from the rear.

M. Rhalis, Greek minister of justice, is quoted in a press dispatch as having complained that British tardiness in bringing effective support for the Serbians made Greek participation impossible.

INHUMAN PAIR UNDER ARREST

By Associated Press. Easton, Md., November 23.—Frank Marshall and his wife, who are alleged to have held Marshall's daughter, Grace, a prisoner at their home for 12 years, were taken into custody today.

Marshall was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault with intent to murder.

Mrs. Marshall was charged with assault and illegal detention of the young woman, who is her step-daughter.

BISHOP MOORE IS STRICKEN

BISHOP DAVID H. MOORE.

Cincinnati, Ohio, November 23.—(By Associated Press) — Bishop David H. Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church was taken to a hospital here today, suffering from what appeared to be a paralytic stroke. His condition is considered serious.

100 DROWN

By Associated Press. ROME, NOVEMBER 23.—ONE HUNDRED PERSONS WERE DROWNED TODAY BY THE WASHING AWAY OF A BRIDGE OVER THE SALSO RIVER, NEAR LICATA, SICILY.

REDUCTION POSTPONED

Washington, November 23.—Reduction in hard coal rates, ordered by the Inter-State Commerce Commission to become effective December 1, were postponed today until January 1.

This is the second postponement in the anthracite case. The new rates apply only between the Pennsylvania mines and the Atlantic seaboard.

SHIPPED BOOZE IN COFFIN

Chattanooga, Tenn., November 23.—The Tennessee Coffin & Casket Company and Frank Fox, its shipping clerk, were convicted by a jury in the federal court today of shipping bottles of whiskey in coffins to adjoining states, without proper labeling.

The government contended it was the company's custom to enclose bottles of whiskey to those who bought coffins.

LIBERTY BELL IN CLEVELAND

By Associated Press. Cleveland, November 23.—Nearly two hours late, the special train carrying the liberty bell, reached Cleveland at 9 o'clock this morning.

Thousands of pupils marched past the car on which the bell was mounted, three abreast.

TWELVE VESSELS WERE CHARTERED

Such Is Admission of Counsel for Dr. Karl Buenz and Others Charged With Conspiracy—German Naval Attache Was Directing Head—“Rode Rough Shod Over Laws and Treaties,” Is Claim Made.

By Associated Press.

New York, November 23.—Captain K. Boy-Ed, German naval attache, was the directing head under whom was spent $750,000 in chartering and supplying neutral steamers with coal and provisions for German men-of-war in the Atlantic and Pacific in August, 1914, the government formally charged—and asserted that it was prepared to prove the charge—in the opening today of the trial, on charges of conspiracy, of Dr. Karl Buenz, managing director of the Hamburg-American Line and three of his subordinates.

Roger B. Wood, assistant United States District Attorney, in charge of the prosecution, in so declaring, asserted that the entire sum was spent under the personal direction of Captain Boy-Ed and that from $500,000 to $600,000 of the amount was spent in San Francisco in chartering vessels and obtaining supplies of paper.

William Rand, counsel for the defendants, admitted that the defendants had chartered and supplied 12 ships which sailed away from American ports for the relief of German men-of-war.

In so doing, Mr. Rand said, the defendants acted upon orders received by cable from Germany.

REFUSE TO ENDORSE LEGISLATIVE METHOD

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, November 23.—A resolution endorsing legislative methods of obtaining a universal eight-hour law was defeated by a vote of 8486 to 6396 at the final session of the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, after a heated debate between President Samuel Gompers and John Fitzpatrick, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor.

The convention went on record as favoring only economic pressure to secure shorter hours.

President Gompers declared the Socialist party was behind the attempt to force the federation to endorse eight-hour legislation.

“Power is gravitating from the ballot box to the industrial field,” he said. “That gravitation will go on.

President Gompers and all other officers were re-elected.

SUBS CUT OFF GERMAN IRON SUPPLY

Stockholm, Sweden, November 23.—Swedish iron mine owners state that the British submarine blockade will result in a complete stoppage of Germany's large iron ore importation from this country. Iron ore is not contraband and could ordinarily be shipped on neutral vessels, but at present all Swedish and other waters are not easy during the best neutral shipping is otherwise engaged, and no vessels are available.

The present stoppage of the iron ore trade is a heavy blow to Sweden but the Swedish press, realizing England's necessity has indulged in neither bitterness nor complaint.

German ships are now playing a difficult game. Navigating close to the shore in order to be in neutral season, and with the rough seas of winter it will be particularly hazardous.

Opposition Is Growing

As the time when the next congress of the nation will convene and begin its labors approaches, the discussion of the preparedness program of President Wilson grows apace.

It has already become almost certain that the opposition to the program in the ranks of the president's own party will prevent its adoption by congress on a strictly partisan vote.

The opposition of majority leader Kitchin and the lukewarm support which Speaker Clark grudgingly announces have demonstrated the necessity for the endeavor of the president to stamp the measure as non-partisan and seek support for it within the ranks of the minority party.

It is outside the ranks of the representatives and senators in congress, however, that the opposition which threatens most seriously the success of the preparedness program has developed.

There has been, within the past two weeks, a decided trend of public opinion in opposition and that opposition now numbers in its ranks some of the clearest thinkers and most patriotic men of the nation. Many noted ministers of the gospel, among them Dr. Washington Gladden of Columbus, are pronounced and earnest in their opposition. Several of the great church organizations have gone so far as to adopt resolutions expressing their disapproval and calling upon the president not to fall into the error which has brought Europe to the brink of destruction.

The press of the land is about equally divided, the most influential of the larger publications supporting the program being found in the east, a section in which the public sentiment seems to favor the president's plan.

More and more people are each day beginning to realize that the utter exhaustion of the European nations following the close of the war will prevent any one of them from entering a conflict again for the next twenty years. During that twenty years or more of peace this nation would do much better to spend a billion dollars of the people's money in the works of peace, than it would to spend it in the construction of great battleships which would be worthless long before any European nation would be strong enough to think of war.

Each day more and more people are concluding that, with attack practically impossible, the endeavor for universal peace cannot best be subserved by making elaborate preparations for war, even though those preparations are pronounced but provisions for defense.

It will be hard indeed to make the world believe our protestations for peace are sincere when we spend a billion dollars for ships and guns to defend the nation, when there is no possible enemy.

An Important Work

Two experts in educational psychology are in charge of a new work to be taken up by the department of psychology of the Ohio State University next year. It is the inauguration of a movement which has much of possible good to recommend it and one, which if followed to the limit of promise, may solve a problem which has long perplexed teachers and parents alike.

One of the great difficulties encountered in our public schools is the inability of some of the pupils to keep up with the class and the inability of others to keep busy with the schedule of work. Some are below normal in mentality and some are above. Those who are below are forced along beyond their capacity to keep up and the pupils above normal are held back and prevented from making the progress which are trying their mental capacity would enable them to make. In trying to solve the problem by directing their efforts and adopting a course so as to provide for an average the public instructors have fallen short of obtaining results. That plan has not aided either the children who are below par nor those who are above par, but so far it has been the only means available.

Now it is proposed by the learned psychologists at "State" to conduct a clinic which will aid parents and teachers in classifying the youngsters and placing them in classes where the work outlined will be more in harmony with their capacity for acquiring knowledge.

If that is done and the classification intelligently and honestly made it would seem that the solution of a problem was near at hand.

Better results can be obtained by keeping children in school when the studies are commensurate with their capacity, where they are neither overworked nor underworked.

The experiments in the new department will be watched with interest and many teachers who have long been aware of the shortcomings of the present methods of classification but have despaired of finding a solution, will take courage and enter heartily into the work of trying to find a way out—a way which will produce better results with less effort on the part of both pupils and teachers.

Poetry For Today

THE NATIONAL FEAST.

Thanksgiving is truly a national feast,
Each state in the Union, behold!
Contributes its best to the annual board—
From Oregon apples to gold;
From old Massachusetts the cranberries red,

That jewel the shores of Cape Cod,
And from Florida oranges luscious and sweet,

A fruit that is fit for a god.

There is corn from Kentucky, potatoes to cream
From Ohio, and fish from the Lakes,

And bright as the gold newly coined
From the mint,

The butter that Illinois makes.
There are hickory-nuts from the woods of Vermont,

And rice like a treasure of pearls
From the warm Carolinas, where plump and green,

The palmetto leaf broadly unfurls.

California sends purple grapes by the ton,

Virginia the succulent ham,
Minnesota the flour for the bread and the cake;

New Jersey the strawberry jam;
And Delaware oysters delicious and plump,

New York the big pumpkins for pies,

And Rhode Island and Maryland turkeys galore,

Of wonderful flavor and size.

Then thanks to the Lord of the Harvests who gave His sunlight and rain to our fields,

At whose bidding the soil in response to our toil,

Its bounty abundantly yields;

And remembering Europe with ashes for crops

And a harvest of battle-smoke murky,

Let us lift up our hearts in thanksgiving for peace,

And its blessings along with the turkey.

FILE PROTEST

Washington, Nov. 23.—Vigorous protest was lodged at the state department against the action of the British crew which seized the American Steamship Genesee and carried her into St. Lucia, British West Indies, with a prize crew on board. The protest was in the form of a telegram from R. G. Wagner of New York, president of the American Transatlantic Steamship company, which owns the Genesee. The same company owns the steamship Hocking, recently seized by a British man-of-war and carried to Halifax, where she now is. United States Consul Livingston at Barbadoes cabled the department confirming the capture of the Genesee which he reported was taken while en route from Norfolk, Va., to Montevideo with a cargo of coal. The disposition of the state department is to permit both the Hocking and Genesee cases to be disposed of in the prize courts.

SET FREE

Columbus, Nov. 23.—Moy Fat, a Chinese, was freed of a first degree murder charge, when, after more than two years' effort, the prosecuting attorney's office was unable to locate Yee Jack, regarded as the state's chief witness. Jack jumped his bond, in asking for annulment. Fat, it said in the indictment, on April 18, 1913, killed S. W. Tang, another Chinese, engaged by the United States as an interpreter. The murder occurred in this city.

TAKE 40 FORTS

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Germany has so far captured forty fortresses since the beginning of the war. Of these five were in Belgium, twelve in France, fifteen in Russia and eight in Serbia. It is pointed out that some of the forts, like Antwerp and Brest-Litovsk, were accounted the strongest in the world.

SISTER DIES

Washington, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Mary McLean Ludlow, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Washington McLean of Cincinnati and Washington, is dead at the home here of her son, Frederick H. Bugher, former deputy police commissioner of New York. She is survived by a brother, John R. McLean, the publisher.

ANOTHER OBSTACLE

Paris, Nov. 23.—Another obstacle has arisen to the peace congress which was to be held on Dec. 14 in the refusal of the German delegates to participate. The German government, it is understood, has requested the delegates to absent themselves. The French delegates have also refused to attend.

STOP SPECULATION

Washington, Nov. 23.—General Carranza, head of the de facto government of Mexico, has closed the stock exchange in Mexico City. Announcement to this effect was made at the Carranza agency here, following the receipt by it of a cablegram explaining that the action was taken as a means of stopping speculation.

FINAL COUNT

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 23.—The final count in the Tennessee senatorial race shows K. D. McKellar has led the ticket with 42,892 votes; M. R. Patterson came second with 40,402 votes; present Senator Luke Lea came up a poor third with 32,691 votes.

TO REORGANIZE

Jackson, O., Nov. 23.—On application of M. L. Sternberger, Jr., the Wellston Iron and Steel company was turned into the hands of a receiver. There are no creditors other than the stockholders of the company and the action was taken to effect reorganization.

Tuskegee, Ala., Nov. 23.—Three men are mentioned as possible successors to the late Booker T. Washington as head of Tuskegee Institute. They are Warren Logan and Emmett J. Scott, for many years Dr. Washington's chief lieutenants, and Major R. R. Morton, commandant at Hampton Institute.

DEPUTY SEALER FILES REPORT OF HIS WORK

Deputy Sealer of Weights and measures of Fayette County, N. B. Hall, has just filed a report of his work in this county, showing remarkable activity while in the office, and the belief is expressed that in all probability no other Deputy Sealer in the population of Fayette can show a record comparing with that made by Mr. Hall.

During his incumbency in office Deputy Sealer Hall has sealed 1,002 scales, adjusted 20 sets and condemned 88 sets.

Of dry measures he sealed 33 and of liquid measures he sealed 1473 and condemned 29.

He sealed 100 automatic pumps, such as are used in measuring gasoline and kerosene. He adjusted four of the automatic pumps and condemned one.

The number of weights sealed 2,355, and the number adjusted was 31. Thirty-four weights were condemned and confiscated.

The total number of inspections made by Deputy Sealer Hall was 5,170. The weights, measures and scales which could not be adjusted were either confiscated or their use discontinued at once, so that the public as well as the owner of the scales himself, have protection against short or long weights and measures, as the case may be.

friendly test suit of the law and if the Court should find that there was a violation of the Ohio law there is not likely to be any more than a formal sentence imposed.

The "movie men" contend that the Ohio statutes forbidding theatrical and other performances on Sunday are not broad enough to prevent moving picture exhibitions.

A great deal of interest attaches to the outcome of the prosecution.

POINSETTA HAS THREE BLOSSOMS

County Auditor A. W. Duff is proudly exhibiting a large poinsettia shrub which has put forth three large blossoms, and by Christmas time the blossoms are expected to be full and perfect. The plant is attracting wide attention, owing to the scarcity of the plant in this part of the country.

One of the blossoms is more than ten inches in diameter, while the next largest is eight inches across and the third is about six inches. The petals first appear a light pink and turn to a deep red as they increase in size.

STILL ANOTHER CASE IS ENDED

Another of an unbroken series of compromises was made in the common pleas court, Monday, in the case of W. P. Collett against W. L. Mott and others, growing out of the erection of the "Community" Mausoleum.

Time after time the petit jury has assembled or the time was near for the jury to appear, when notification was issued that the case pending had been compromised, would be tried before the judge, or was under course of compromise, with the result that throughout the entire term of court the jury has rendered but one verdict and that was simply a formality deemed necessary in the compromise.

The jury was dismissed until further notice.

GETTING AN EDUCATION.

After the Age of Thirty Is the Time to Start in Earnest.

According to the Saturday Evening Post, the best time to get an education—perhaps the only time—is any time after one has passed thirty. The stuff that one learns before twenty is not meant to be remembered. It is only a placing of the chutes and an arrangement of the bins for the permanent contents. From twenty to thirty one is all torn up with courting, marrying and getting a foothold in life. After that is the time for education—from then on until death or senile debility.

A man or woman past thirty is exactly at the most favorable period for mastering knowledge, training the mind, forming the taste. Some systematic effort is all that is necessary. Notice the silly and tiresome ways in which enormous numbers of people spend some of their holidays. They know what to do with their working hours, but not with their leisure.

Most of them by a little exertion and a little systematic effort might develop some special interest. Boys quickly tire of mere aimless and painless play. Naturally they want a method and a goal in it. Having a goal is exactly what gives zest to the game.

And having a goal is both easy and delightful. To study anything with interest, from logarithms to caterpillars, gives one fun and profit at the same time. Try it.

A lady selected some purchases in a store, asking that they be kept for her until the next day. When she returned she could not remember who waited on her. After puzzling over the matter, she approached one and asked:

"Am I the woman who bought some embroidery here yesterday?"

"Yes'm," replied the girl, stolidly and turned to get it.—Christian Register.

Dramatic Test That Was Made With a Bullet Proof Shirt.

"A well known war correspondent, who is a personal friend of mine," writes a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, "tells an amusing story."

While in Paris at the beginning of the war in 1914 a French inventor persuaded him to obtain an opportunity for demonstrating the usefulness of a thin chain armor shirt, which he claimed would resist any bullet or bayonet.

"A sample shirt had been hung up and fired at with satisfactory results, but it was with a certain journalistic skepticism that my friend attended the official demonstration at Hendon later.

Anyway, to oblige the inventor he put on one of the shirts to show its con-fort and flexibility. It was then that the French inventor achieved a dramatic effect, for he whipped out a

Webley automatic and blazed away straight at my friend's chest.

"He is still alive to tell the tale," adds the correspondent. "Before he had recovered breath a war office official grasped him warmly by the hand.

"Sir," he said, "you are a brave man."

"My friend disappeared with becoming modesty. He had gone where he could get a stiff brandy and soda!"

How American Cities Grow.

Nobody knows how fast an American city, state or town may grow. I recall some twenty-five years ago meeting a friend in Denver. He was an investor from the east. I think Denver had about 30,000 people then. He had come to buy real estate. He said to me: "This place is overgrown. Real estate is too high. None for me!" And he went away. Had he invested wisely at that time he could have multiplied his money ten to twenty fold. I was in Los Angeles about the same time. It had had a serious reaction after a sudden boom. It was a little place, not one-tenth its present size. It seemed like a doomed city. An investment of $500 than in outlying acreage property. I am told, would be worth $500,000 today. So nobody can tell what may be the future of any of the new, wideawake cities of Alaska.—Leslie's.

In Social Circles

An extremely pretty miscellaneous shower was given by Misses Jane Paul and Louise Greiner for Miss Senath Kellough, who weds Mr. Walther Thompson on Thanksgiving day, at the home of Miss Paul Monday evening.

Chrysanthemums were used in decoration and the pretty bride-elect was "showered" in quite an unusual and novel way.

Blindfolded, she was seated under a canopy of red ribbons, emerging from the nozzle of a big sprinkling can overhead, and each one tied to a package. Miss Kellough must open all the packages before she found her way out of the canopy.

The gifts included an array of the beautiful and useful, which will be most appreciated souvenirs in the bride's new home.

Towards the close of a merry evening the attractive young hostesses served a delicious luncheon.

Mrs. John Paul and Miss Evick assisted in the hospitalities.

Mrs. C. Howard Griffis entertained the Monday Bridge club at an elaborate course luncheon, Monday. Mrs. Griffis' affairs are always characterized by distinctive individuality and artistic taste, as was again emphasized in the table decorations of shaded yellow chrysanthemums, in graduated sizes, and greenery, together with the charming accessories of the luncheon courses.

Mrs. D. L. Thompson pleasantly entertained the Court street bridge club Tuesday afternoon.

The Holy Name Society of St. Colman's church enjoyed a most delightful social session and dance at the F. O. E. club rooms Monday night.

There were a hundred and fifty in attendance, the guests finding the large club rooms, with brightly lighted ball room, billiard room and dining room well adapted to such an affair. Horstman and Miller furnished splendid music and the committee served ice cream, cake and coffee.

Mr. V. J. Dahl acted as chairman of the committee owing to the absence of Mr. J. J. Kelley. The other members of the committee were Messrs. Tom and Charles Cullen and Wardus Collopy.

BLOCKADE IS NOW IN OPERATION

Greece Expected to Yield to Allies' Demand.

EARLY DECISION LIKELY

Blockade of Greek Commerce Now In Effect, With Italy Participating In the Measures of Restraint—Wintery Blasts Hamper Teutons, While Serbs Win a Victory Over Bulgarians—Attitude of Roumania.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Athens states that Greece will yield to the allies' demand for guarantees for the safety of the Anglo-French forces landed at Salonica or for that of the Serbians who might be forced over the Greek frontier.

Meanwhile the blockade of Greek commerce has commenced, and Italy, it is reported, is participating in the measures of restraint decided upon. This, with the news that the Serbians have won a victory over the Bulgarians northeast of Pristina, that the Bulgarians have delayed their march on Monastir and that the Austro-Germans are laboring under difficulties as a result of the wintery weather, has created a more hopeful feeling in the capitals of the entente allies.

The British and French forces daily are being strengthened by men and guns landed at Salonica, and part of the reinforcements is being sent to Monastir, where the Serbians also are reported to be concentrating and threatening the Bulgarians at Prilep.

Roumania finds herself in much the same position as Greece, with both the entente allies and the central powers bringing pressure to bear upon her. The Germans, it is said, are asking Roumania to give assurances of her continued neutrality, and also are offering her concessions if she intervenes in the war on the side of the Teutonic allies. With a big Russian army in Bessarabia, however, it is believed in military circles here hardly likely that Roumania will accept the second alternative.

The Italians, by their continued offensive, are strengthening their positions around Gorizia, which, it is believed, can not hold out much longer.

On the western front the British and French artillery has become more active in Flanders and Champagne, which on previous occasions has been the signal for offensive movements.

The Russians, since they regained the ground they lost at the River Styx, have been inactive, except for minor attacks in the Dvinsk region.

A big offensive movement has been begun by the allies at the Dardanelles.

Sinking of a Turkish transport, which was carrying 500 soldiers across the sea of Marmora, is reported in a message from Zurich. The message says the transport struck a mine and that nearly all on board were drowned.

Canadian Troops Engage London Police.

BROKEN HEADS THE RESULT

Canadian City the Scene of Serious Rioting, In Which Soldiers Attempt to Even Up Old Scores—Battle Begins When Traffic Cop Is Bowled Over—Rioters Subdued After Hours of Effort.

London, Ont., Nov. 23.—Bad blood which has existed between members of the Thirty-third battalion, Canadian expeditionary forces, and the local police, culminated in the worst rioting ever experienced in London.

For over three hours squads of police fought hundreds of soldiers, the latter being armed with bricks and cobble stones. The police fired many shots from their revolvers, but depended mainly on their clubs. Several soldiers were taken to Victoria hospital suffering with cracked skulls and five policemen were rendered hors du combat. The Thirty-third men are due to leave for the front shortly and aimed to wipe out old scores with the police before departing.

The troubles started when a traffic officer was knocked flat on his face by a party of soldiers. Police Sergeant McDonald, who came to his subordinate's rescue, was struck on the head with a brick and laid out. Five policemen succeeded in jailing one soldier. A cordon of police blocked the entrance to the station and, growing hard pressed, drew their revolvers. The soldiers tore up the pavement for ammunition.

SELECTING JURY

New York, Nov. 23.—At the trial of the officials of the Hamburg-American Steamship line, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States, talesmen were compelled to answer under oath whether or not their foreign sympathies for any warring nation would unfit them to act as jurors. United States District Judge Howe is presiding. An unusual number of men with German names were on the panel. The foreman of the jury proved to the satisfaction of both sides that whatever he may think of the case will not affect his verdict, even though he is the American born son of an Irish born father and an English born mother. All the others except one, who were accepted upon showing that they could act without prejudice were either of old American stock or the sons of English, Irish or Scotch born parents. The exception was born in Ireland.

SHOW TRAIN IS WRECKED

Serious Railway Wreck Occurs In Georgia.

SIX PERSONS LOSE LIVES

Bodies of Dozen Others Believed to Be in the Wreckage, Which Takes Fire—Thirty Persons More or Less Injured and Both Engines Smashed. Passengers On Express Train Escape Injury.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 23.—A head-on collision between a special train of twenty-eight cars carrying the Con T. Kennedy Carnival shows and a solid steel passenger train on the Central of Georgia railroad, ninety-four miles west of here, cost the lives of at least six persons, injuries to thirty others, and completely put the show out of business. A dozen persons are reported as missing.

Six bodies were taken from the wreckage before flames drove rescuers away. Con T. Kennedy, proprietor of the show, stated to railroad officials that he is satisfied that other persons connected with his show have been killed.

A number of the carnival company's cars were burned. Two cars containing trained animals were destroyed, killing many of the animals.

The collision occurred on a straight stretch of track, the passenger train being en route from Birmingham to Macon and the show special from Atlanta to Phoenix City, Ala. A misunderstanding of orders is said to have been responsible.

Engines of both trains were demolished by the impact. The passenger train carried three steel coaches, all of which escaped serious damage. The cars of the carnival train, however, piled up on the engines and immediately caught fire.

The chief performers of the carnival company rode in twelve coaches which made up the rear end of their train, and none of them suffered more than bruises.

The known dead and injured, except for trainmen, were persons traveling with the carnival company. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Kempf of Kansas City; a showman known only as "Whitey"; three unidentified showmen, whose bodies were badly burned.

There were about sixty people attached to the carnival company, which had been exhibiting in Atlanta during the past week.

BURIED ALIVE

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Luigi Matroni was buried alive in the cellar of his home near Corfu, in May, 1914, this body being trampled into a newly made grave while he still begged for mercy, according to a story told by his widow to District Attorney Coon here. Antonio Boliva, the alleged murderer, pointed out the spot where the crime occurred and the body was found, which Mrs. Matroni identified as that of her husband. Boliva has confessed, the district attorney said.

HENRY FORD IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 23.—Henry Ford came to town accompanied by Louis P. Lochner, secretary of the International Peace Federation and of the Chicago Peace society. Asked if it was true that he had condemned the Carnegie endowment for promoting international peace, Mr. Ford said: "Well, what have they really done?" None present could name a thing. Whereupon the manufacturer added: "That is why I am against them." In regard to the news from Detroit that Mrs. Ford is to organize a peace movement among American women, Mr. Ford said: "That's the whole story. There isn't anything else to say about it."

Cincinnati Man Praises Tanlac For Good It has Done Him.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 22.—Among those in the Cincinnati vicinity to endorse Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is R. G. Potts, a salesman, of 938 York street, Newport. He says: "I was a sufferer with stomach trouble and rheumatism for 10 years. Finally, my condition became so serious that it greatly interfered with my business. I was unable to retain even the lightest foods on my stomach, and had the most severe pains imaginable in my abdominal regions after eating. My breath was foul and my tongue was covered with a thick coating. I suffered from headache, nervousness and dizziness, and found it difficult to sleep. The rheumatism also caused me great pain, especially on damp, cool days."

"I tried various medicines, without gaining relief. After being advised by friends to take Tanlac, and seeing it advertised in the newspapers, I decided to try it. I was astonished at the result. After taking a few doses my appetite returned and I found that I could eat anything I craved with relish. The nervousness and dizziness disappeared, and my sleep became restful and peaceful. I no longer suffer with pains in the stomach and head."

ARTILLERY ABANDONED

Villistas Manage to Escape From Cananea.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 23.—On taking possession of Cananea, General Obregon, the Carranza commander, found that the Villa forces, under General Jose Rodriguez, left nine pieces of artillery and ninety wounded men in their flight. They also took all available food. To replenish this a carload of food was sent to Cananea by the Carranza commander, who came to the border for a conference with his lieutenants.

American Consul Montague wired from Cananea that all Americans are safe and that American property was not molested, although Americans and natives were treated alike in the seizure of food. The main force of General Obregon is making its way westward from Cananea in an effort to reach Nogales and prevent the Villa army getting back into that city from Hermosillo.

The Villa forces that occupied Cananea slipped out through mountain passes south and southwest of Cananea. They could not take their cannon over the roads they followed in leaving. They are reported heading in the direction of Hermosillo, north of which Villa and his forces have recently been defeated. Part of Obregon's force is following them.

News received here is that General Canute Reyes and General B. Banuelos, Villa leaders, who are reported below Torreón headed south, are going to make a bold dash at the Mexican capital. This is explained as a part of Villa's tactics in his efforts to show the world that Carranza can not control Mexico.

Cincinnati Man Praises Tanlac For Good It has Done Him.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 22.—Among those in the Cincinnati vicinity to endorse Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is R. G. Potts, a salesman, of 938 York street, Newport. He says: "I was a sufferer with stomach trouble and rheumatism for 10 years. Finally, my condition became so serious that it greatly interfered with my business. I was unable to retain even the lightest foods on my stomach, and had the most severe pains imaginable in my abdominal regions after eating. My breath was foul and my tongue was covered with a thick coating. I suffered from headache, nervousness and dizziness, and found it difficult to sleep. The rheumatism also caused me great pain, especially on damp, cool days."

"I tried various medicines, without gaining relief. After being advised by friends to take Tanlac, and seeing it advertised in the newspapers, I decided to try it. I was astonished at the result. After taking a few doses my appetite returned and I found that I could eat anything I craved with relish. The nervousness and dizziness disappeared, and my sleep became restful and peaceful. I no longer suffer with pains in the stomach and head."

"I feel younger than I have in 10 years, and can do more work with less effort than I could in the same time. In fact, I feel just as well as I did before I became affected with stomach trouble. SHE HEARD A SOFT RAP AT THE WINDOW.

the schoolmistress from Perkinsville, Ruth set her teeth together hard and tight.

So that was where John was going for Thanksgiving—and she had been up there taking tea—just as though that girl didn't know that Aunt James Prouty's was no place to go for tea, and she down with rheumatiz! Well, she hoped he'd have a pleasant evening. As for that pie—and she looked at it ruefully—she'd taken too much pains with that to waste it on a lot of overgrown boys and cider drinking men. She'd give it to the pigs—that's what she'd do with it. Nobody else should eat it if John couldn't.

Then as she looked at the pastry that had given her so much pleasure and so much disappointment she said she'd give it to old Ma'am Jefferson, down the valley. She was living there alone, lonesome-like, and it would make her Thanksgiving day happier to know that somebody thought of her up there on the hill.

So when the cider and apples were brought and everybody was fixed cozily enough around the kitchen fire and in the neat big square sitting room Ruth stole out with the pie in her hands folded in a white towel, and, tripping lightly across the fields, she knocked at the door of the little cottage where Ma'am Jefferson lived alone, but received no answer. The latchstring was hanging out. She pulled it gently to rattle the latch; but, still hearing no sound from within, she pushed the door open and entered. No one was there, but a big Bible lay open on the stand, and the iron bowed spectacles were upon it. Ma'am Jefferson had evidently been called away in a hurry, probably to see some sick neighbor. Ruth said to herself, and she would be glad to find some trace of loving thoughtfulness when she returned.

Then Ruth wrote a little note, sad from the feelings that oppressed her, yet kindly from the wealth of her own kind heart, and left it with the pie.

"There's company up at our house," the note said, "and I can't wait until you come back, aunty, but I have put the teakettle over the fire and set the tea drawing, and I hope you will find everything warm and comfortable."

All our days
We give thee praise.
O God, who holdest in Thy hand
And didst exalt and bless our land
And gavest it from sea to sea
To all embracing liberty,
We give thee praise
All our days.

For the golden glow of the orange tree,
For the purple grapes, for the honeybee,
For the waving plumes of the yellow grain,
For the glorious sunshine and for the rain,
The coal in the mine, the ore in the hill,
The throb of the engine, the whistles shrill,
The fire of the forge and the anvil's ring,
For the tinkling phone and the cable string,
The whirr of the loom, the clack of the mill,
For the auto's speed and the airship's thrill,
For the horse of flame on the road of steel
And the wireless voice that makes loud appeal,

For our busy marts and our busy streets,
Where the white, black, brown and yellow low man meets;

For the strong true arm of the workman brave,
For our churches and schools with power
to save,

For hearts of our women, brains of our men,
For the laureled harvest of brush and pen,

For the wealth of herds on the prairies wide,
For the new homes rising on every side,
For the law that shields where our flag is unfurled.

For peace in our land and with all the world,
For our mighty name, in all men's sight,
The pledge we must walk for aye in thy light,
All our days
We give thee praise.

Hours and hours Ruth sat alone by the kitchen fire waiting for the last sound of life to die out in the house that she might rake up the embers and lock the doors, for she was a notable housekeeper, this brave young girl, and took her invalid mother's place as far as possible in all things.

But while she was sitting alone by the kitchen fire she heard a soft rap at the window, and, looking up, she saw John's face in the moonlight, earnest and smiling as he beckoned to her.

In the instant the thought flashed over her, proud and decorous Yankee girl that she was, that he had been spending the evening with Miss Gregory, and it was worse than impudent for him to call there on his way home. She would not answer his summons. She thought he would go away, and so he did—from the window, but only to come quietly in at the door.

Sitting down on the settee beside her, he spread his hands over the dying embers to warm them and said, with a slight shiver:

"It is chilly out tonight, Ruth, and I have been thinking of you."

She turned up her nose a little at this; but, dreading to hear anything more that she would think was false, she told him very quietly:

"I saw you go down the lane with Miss Gregory early this evening. I should think it most likely, that you had been thinking of her since then."

John turned and looked at her, lots of fun brimming up in his brown eyes. But when he saw how tired and sad she looked he answered her gently:

"No, little girl; I have been thinking of you, as I said, and the last thing I did before coming here was to drink a cupful of tea and eat a piece of pie of your making. While I drank the tea I was thinking—no doubt it will sound foolish to you—but I was thinking how every one of those little grains had been cuddled in the palm of your hand as you measured them out, and the pie was as sweet as though you had stirred the mince with your finger before putting it between the crusts."

Ruth was laughing and blushing at his foolish words, and he, enjoying her confusion, put up one hand and drew her head down on his shoulder.

"I don't know what you mean," she said presently. "I haven't turned cook for Miss Gregory."

"No," he interrupted her; "I forgot that you didn't know where I had been. Tom Gregory was thrown from a colt tonight, and they thought his leg was broken. His sister came across lots for me to go down there and see what I could do for him. We didn't like to stop at your house for help, because you had so much company, so we went and got Ma'am Jefferson and took her over with us. We made the boy as comfortable as we could, and she said no bones were broken. So then I went home with her, and there was the fire your care had brightened, and the tea and the pie."

The girl's heart was beating very fast as John said, "My Thanksgiving will be complete, Ruth, if you will promise to be my wife."

After they were married she told him that the pie had been made on purpose for him.

OPPOSITION TO COUNCIL ACTION

By Associated Press.

Chicago, November 23.—Charitable organizations of Chicago today began active opposition to a council order, passed last night, permitting a "tag day" for widows, December 14, the widows themselves to do the tagging.

Mayor Thompson was asked to veto the order.

A Voracious Monster.

The most voracious of all marine beasts of prey is the orca, or killer whale. It reaches a length of twenty-five feet, and its jaws bristle with teeth from four to six inches long and as sharp as a dirk knife. Its digestive power is proportioned to the tremendous efficacy of its jaws. It seems also to be an atrocious glutton, as one specimen examined contained in its stomach thirteen porpoises and fourteen seals.

Drowned His Voice.

EMPIRE THEATER

The Anna Stock Co., which is playing a return engagement at the Empire Theater this week was greeted Monday night by a large audience and one that was much pleased. "The Gypsy Queen" was the title of the play and proved an exciting story, full of thrills, and in which Miss Irma Wyckoff, the leading lady, won many new admirers.

The company is a good one offering a varied program all week and a crowded house will undoubtedly prevail at the Empire each night.

RUNS MOTOR AT 100.

Hardy Scot Receives Instructions and Then Shows 'Em How to Do It.

Burlingame, Cal.—Daniel McClane, a hardy Scotchman, who was married at the age of fifty-nine years and has eleven children and several grandchildren, celebrated his centennial here recently by learning to drive an automobile.

With a hundred years behind him, but still hale and hearty, the old man attracted much attention as he scoured through the streets of the town at the wheel of a motorcar belonging to his daughter, Mrs. D. T. Ambrose.

McClane came to California during the gold rush and has been a resident of Lassen county for many years. He came here for the celebration of his one hundredth birthday.

"Whoop!" exclaimed the centenarian, returning from his joy ride. "I never knew that when I was at the helm of a sailing ship seventy-five years ago I'd be running a craft like this!"

"HOW DRY I AM!"

With Piano It Makes Trouble For Scotty In "Dry Town."

Des Moines, Ia.—When A. H. Day, chief of the "booze hunting brigade," accompanied by Night Captain Weaver and two officers, visited the home of Scotty McClure in search for liquor, for a time he imagined that he had been misinformed. All searched high and low, but found no booze.

Scotty insisted that he was a law abiding citizen. The raiders were about to leave when some one thought of the piano.

"Has the instrument been tuned lately, Scotty?" inquired one of the officers.

"Why—er—yes. Oh, yes, it's all right, Plays fine," Scotty replied.

"D'ye ever play 'How Dry I Am' on it?" inquired Weaver, as he pressed his foot against the pedals.

Before Scotty replied a panel beneath the keyboard was pushed open, revealing twenty-one pints of whisky.

CHEMISTS REPLACE COOKS IN GERMANY

Artificial Eggs and Laboratory Milk Now Offered.

London.—By German government order Sundays and Wednesdays are the only days exempt from the new restrictions on the use of meat.

German newspapers publish schedules prepared by the German federal council controlling the consumption of meat.

Mr. Burden came to Atlanta and pushed his suit so successfully that he won Miss Thomson. The marriage, however, was opposed by Mr. Burden's children and grandchildren, who live in Macon, Ga., from which city Burden went to New York several years ago.

The first news of Mr. Burden's intended marriage which reached the ears of his relatives in Macon, a friend of the family said, was that the aged man went to his bank in New York and drew out $300,000 in cash, tucked it into a gripsack and left for Atlanta.

Mr. Burden's children came to Atlanta from Macon and tried to stop the marriage, even begging Miss Thomson not to wed the aged man.

Both Mr. Burden and Miss Thomson, however, insisted that their marriage concerned only themselves. After the ceremony the couple left for New York, where they will live.

Mondays and Thursdays: Butchers shall sell no raw or cooked meats.

Saturdays: Pork shall not be sold.

Thus far no restriction on the cooking of meat in the home has been placed by the federal council.

Copies of German papers contain some tempting offers of chemical food which the public is asked to purchase. Some of these appeals follow:

"Certain Sale—Artificial omelets, artificial butter, chemical honey and marmalade, artificial coffee and milk in any quantities. Packets made up ready for sale at 10 to 20 pfennige (2 and 4 cents). Ritterstrasse, 86.

"Chemical food is the modern food. All information and receipts at Wollmann's, the chemist engineer, Charlottenburg.

"Egg Powder.—To replace natural eggs. Each packet is equal to two eggs, for a penny. Millions of packets have already been sold. Trademark, 'Prima-Nova,' Neukulin, near Berlin.

"Starch Sirup.—Immense nutritive power. In casks of eight or nine hundredweight at Kakek's, Charlottenstrasse, 76.

"To replace natural eggs in the kitchen write to Levin, chemist, who will send recipes and explanations for 10 marks ($2.50)."

The prize perhaps should be given to Ludwig Holzapfel of Leipzig for the following:

"The cheapest meat for concentration camps, large establishment, etc., is whale's meat, which is very nourishing and rich in albuminous substances. Barrels of a hundredweight can be sent on trial for 60 marks ($15)."
